EPOC Diploma Supplement

EPOC: Economic Policy in Complex Environments

The purpose of the supplement is to provide sufficient independent data to improve the international transparency and fair academic and professional recognition of qualifications (diplomas, degrees, certificates etc…). It is designed to provide a description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies that were pursued and successfully completed by the individual named on the original qualification to which this supplement is appended. It is free from any value-judgements, equivalence statements or suggestions about recognition.

The EPOC consortium provides each Early Stage Researcher (ESR) with only one official copy of all documents associated with their academic work. Notarized copies are to serve as official copies for all purposes.

1. Information identifying the holder of the qualification

1.1 Family Name: Wang

1.2 First Name: Zhongli

1.3 Date (day/month/year), Place, Country of Birth: 16/09/1996 in Gansu, China

2. Information identifying the qualification

2.1 Name of qualification(s) and title(s) conferred:

A double degree with two doctoral degree certificates is awarded by the two Degree Granting Universities. Each degree is fully recognised in the country in which it has been issued and refers to the fact that it is awarded as a double degree with the second Degree Granting University. Further details are mentioned in Art. 4.4.4 of the EPOC Consortium Agreement.

2.2 Main field(s) of study for the qualification:

- General graduate education in Economics and related fields.
- Interdisciplinary background to carry out research of highest level in the area of decision and policy analysis in complex environments, in particular training in the areas of Data Science, Network Analysis and Agent-based Simulation.
- Transferrable skills training, in particular, time management, presentation skills, academic writing, effective communication, as well as the necessary self-reflection and management of self-confidence.
- Regular Gender meetings.

EPOC, as European Joint Doctorate (EJD), is an integrative part of Marie Skłodowska-Curie Innovative Training Network in Horizon 2020, grant agreement No 956107.

2.3 Names and status of institutions awarding the qualification:

The degree is awarded by two beneficiaries of the EPOC consortium.

The universities of the EPOC consortium are:

- Universiteit van Amsterdam (UvA)
- Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona (UAB)
- Universität Bielefeld (UNIBI)
- Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore (UCSC)
- Universitá Ca' Foscari, Venezia (UNIVE)
- Københavns Universitet (UCPH)
- Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne (UP1)

2.4 The Degree Granting Universities are:
Universität Bielefeld (UNIBI) and Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore (UCSC)

2.5 Name and status of institution coordinating the consortium: Universität Bielefeld

2.6 Language of instruction/examination: English

3. Information on the level of the qualification

3.1 Level of qualification: Third degree of higher education (doctoral studies)

3.2 Official length of programme: Three years, corresponding to 180 ECTS

3.3 Access requirement(s):
Admission is based on academic excellence and requires a Master's degree or an equivalent certificate. This degree need not be in economics, although some background in Economics, Data Science or related fields is certainly desirable. Student candidates should have fluent knowledge in spoken and written English. The details of access requirements are stated in the respective doctoral (study) regulations.

4. Information on the contents and results gained

4.1 Important features:
☒ Full time during three years (six semesters) [unless otherwise specified]
☒ Secondment stay of at least two semesters in each of the two degree granting universities
☒ All scientific courses in English
☒ Double degree consisting of two degree certificates awarded by the two degree granting universities. Each degree is fully recognised in the country in which it has been issued and refers to the fact that it is awarded as a double degree with the second degree granting university.
☒ Mandatory doctoral dissertation

EPOC, as European Joint Doctorate (EJD), is an integrative part of Marie Skłodowska-Curie Innovative Training Network in Horizon 2020, grant agreement No 956107.

4.2 Programme requirements:
180 ECTS for the three years (60 ECTS per year), according to the study programme in Annex A or on the EPOC webpage: https://epoc-itn.eu/en/research-and-training/training/

4.3 Details of the Programme (secondments and transcript of results)
The transcripts for each semester are attached at the end of this document according to the following research and training stay:

October 2021 - July 2022:	Universität Bielefeld
August 2022 - September 2022:	Lucidminds (LMAI)
October 2022 - September 2023:	Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore
October 2023 - September 2024:	Universität Bielefeld

4.4 Grading scheme: Activities are graded according to Pass/Fail and partly by local marks.

4.5 Doctoral Dissertation:

Title: Strategic Behavior and Economic Dynamics in ICT Markets: An Agent-Based Framework

Advisors:
Prof. Dr. Herbert Dawid, Universität Bielefeld
Prof. Dr. Domenico Delli Gatti, Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore

4.6 Degrees awarded:

Double degree

Universität Bielefeld
Doktor der Wirtschaftswissenschaften (Dr. rer. pol.)

Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore
Ph.D. in Economics and Finance

Each degree certificate is valid only in combination with the doctoral certificate of the second degree granting University and contains reference to this fact. Each degree is fully recognised in the country in which it has been issued.

5. Information on the function of the qualification

The EPOC consortium is fully committed to the placement of its doctoral students in professional academic, non-academic, and research positions at the international level.

EPOC, as European Joint Doctorate (EJD), is an integrative part of Marie Skłodowska-Curie Innovative Training Network in Horizon 2020, grant agreement No 956107.

Coordinator, EPOC 'Economic Policy in Complex Environments'

Official Stamp/Seal: EPOC Economic Policy in Complex Environments

8. Information on the European Higher Education System

The purpose of the Bologna process (or Bologna accords) is to create the European higher education area by making academic degree standards and quality assurance standards more comparable and compatible throughout Europe, in particular under the Lisbon Recognition Convention. It is named after the place where it was proposed, the University of Bologna in the Italian city of Bologna, with the signing in 1999 of the Bologna declaration by Ministers of Education from 29 European countries. European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) is a standard for comparing the study attainment and performance of students of higher education across the European Union and other collaborating European countries. For successfully completed studies, ECTS credits are awarded. One academic year corresponds to 60 ECTS-credits that are equivalent to 1500-1800 hours of study in all countries irrespective of standard or qualification type and is used to facilitate transfer and progression throughout the Union. The basic framework adopted is of three cycles of higher education qualification. As outlined in the Bergen Declaration of 2005, the cycles are defined in terms of qualifications and ECTS credits:

EPOC, as European Joint Doctorate (EJD), is an integrative part of Marie Skłodowska-Curie Innovative Training Network in Horizon 2020, grant agreement No 956107.

- 1st cycle: typically 180–240 ECTS credits, usually awarding a Bachelor's degree.
- 2nd cycle: typically 90–120 ECTS credits (a minimum of 60 on 2nd-cycle level) usually awarding a Master's degree.
- 3rd cycle: Doctoral degree 180 ECTS.

In most cases, these will take three (possibly four), two, and three years respectively to complete. The actual naming of the degrees may vary from country to country.

The Bologna system is thus comparable to the North American system with a slight difference in the structure of a PhD programme, which in the North American system is normally five years with no distinction between the two first years and the last three (sometimes with a possibility of being awarded a Master's degree after the first two years of study).

The EPOC Doctorate is a three-year programme corresponding to the above quoted third-cycle of studies in the Bologna System.
